

In 2008, another Arts in Education program was funded by Cultural Crossroads and included contracting with local artists to bring instructional art to third, fourth and fifth graders at Richardson Elementary School. Richardson ES had won the coveted title of "Most Talented School" at the 2007 Spring Arts Festival and as their prize, they were provided this free art experience.